Early Childhood Club

What does the club do?

The club participates in a number of worthwhile activities. We also attend conferences where we learn about the early childhood field and network with professional educators and other early childhood students. We create awareness of the issues affecting young children and their families by sponsoring events during the Week of the Young Child.

We also host professional development workshops for early childhood educators.

Join and you will...

- Make a difference in the lives of children and families
- Develop leadership and communication skills
- Practice advocacy
- Network with other early childhood educators
- Learn more by attending conference
- In the past, they have received funding to attend local, state, and/or national conferences.
- Be eligible for the Gestwicki Scholarship, which is awarded annually

When and where does the club hold its meetings?

The club meets on the second Wednesday (7-8pm) & second Saturday (Noon-1pm) of every month, in the Student Life Center on Harris Campus.

Can anyone join? How much does it cost to join? Whom do I contact for more information?

Any CPCC student can become a member. Annual membership dues are $15. For membership, details contact:
