STUDENT VISA INFORMATION
Qualifying for a Student Visa
The Immigration and Nationality Act is specific with regard to the requirements which must be met by applicants to qualify for the student visa. The consular will determine whether you qualify for the visa. Applicants must demonstrate that they properly meet student visa requirements including:

• Having ties to your home country. You must be able to show reasons for returning to your home country such as residence, job prospects, family, etc.
• Having the intention to depart from the United States upon completion of the course of study; and
• Being in possession of sufficient funds to pursue the proposed course of study.

When Do I Need to Apply for My Student Visa?
• Students are encouraged to apply for a visa at the U.S. embassy or consulate in their home country early to provide ample time for visa processing. Please note that embassies and consulates are able to issue your student visa 120 days or less, in advance of the course of study registration date.

• Students are advised of the Department of Homeland Security regulation which requires that all initial or beginning students enter the U.S. 30 days or less in advance of the course of study start/report date as shown on the Form I-20. Please consider this date carefully when making travel plans to the U.S.

Applying for a Student Visa
As part of the visa application process, an interview at the embassy’s consular section is required for visa applicants. Depending on the country where you reside, the waiting time can vary, so applying early is strongly encouraged. Visit http://travel.state.gov/visa/temp/wait/wait_4638.html to see visa wait time estimates for interview appointments and visa processing time information for each U.S. Embassy or Consulate worldwide. Are you ready to schedule an appointment? Visit www.usembassy.gov for the address and phone number of the U.S. Consulate nearest you.

Important Information
• There is no guarantee that you will receive an F1 visa. Please do not make travel arrangements until you have received your visa.
• Possession of a visa does not guarantee your entry to the United States. The Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officials have authority to permit or deny admission to the United States. You must have your I-20 in your possession each time you enter the U.S. If you are allowed to enter the U.S., the immigration official will determine the length of your visit on the Arrival-Departure Record (Form I-94). Since Form I-94 documents your authorized stay in the U.S., be sure to keep this in your passport.

Preparing for your F1 Visa Interview
This information is for people who plan to enter the U.S. for the first time to study. For information on bringing dependents to the U.S., returning to continue studies, renewing your visa, or details on how to apply for a student visa, refer to the U.S. Department of State website, at http://travel.state.gov/visa/visa_1750.html.

1. Contact your local U.S. Consulate or Embassy to ask about how to get an F-1 international student visa. A list of Consulates and Embassies can be found at http://usembassy.state.gov.

2. After you receive an I-20 form from CPCC, follow the U.S. Embassy/Consulate’s instructions to schedule an interview for your F-1 student visa. It is important to apply for your student visa as far in advance as possible.

3. Complete the following forms*:
   • DS-160 Online Non-immigrant Visa Application or
   • DS-156 Non-immigrant Visa Application Form
   • DS-158 Contact Information and Walk History for Non-immigrant Visa Applicant
   • If a male between the ages of 16 and 45, DS-157 Supplemental Non-immigrant Visa Application

*Check the requirements of the U.S. Embassy or Consulate in your country regarding the required forms.

4. Pay the visa application fee by following instructions on your local U.S. embassy or consulate’s website.
5. Pay the applicable SEVIS fee.
   - Find the Form I-901 at www.FMJfee.com.
   - Complete the form online and supply the necessary payment information.
   - Print a copy of the online receipt.
   - Be sure to make copies of your receipt and keep it with your other important immigration documents. You must bring the receipt of fee payment with you to the interview. If you have lost the receipt, the Visa Officer should be able to view your payment history in the database.

NOTE: If you are transferring schools, extending your program, applying for an F-2 dependent visa, or have paid this fee and been denied a visa within the last 12 months, you do not need to pay the SEVIS fee.

6. Prepare and bring to your visa interview the following:
   - A passport valid for at least six months
   - Form I-20 (sign the form under item 11)
   - School admission letter (Included with your I-20)
   - Completed visa applications (DS-160 or DS-156, DS-158, and, if applicable, DS-157)
   - Two 2”x2” photographs in the prescribed format http://travel.state.gov/visa/frvi/frvi_3888.html
   - A receipt for the visa application fee
   - A receipt for the SEVIS fee. If you have not received an official receipt in the mail showing payment and you paid the fee electronically, the consulate will accept the temporary receipt you printed from your computer. If you do not have a receipt, the consulate may be able to see your payment electronically if your fee payment was processed at least three business days before your interview. www.fmjfee.com
   - Financial evidence that shows you have sufficient funds to cover your tuition and living expenses during the period you intend to study. (The total amount from #7 on I-20)
   - Any information that proves that you will return to your home country after finishing your studies in the U.S. This may include proof of property, family, or other ties to your community.

7. Remain calm and answer all the Visa Officer’s questions openly and honestly.

Note: It is important to use the I-20 from the institution that you will attend. Once your visa is issued, it will have the name of your institution you will be attending listed. You may not enter the United States on an I-20 from an institution other than what is listed on your visa.

You may be refused entry into the United States if you attempt to arrive more than 30 days before the program start date listed on #5 of your SEVIS I-20 form.

If you have any questions, please contact International Programs and Services at 704.330.6838.
TRAVELLING TO CHARLOTTE

New students are required to arrive no later than the date noted on line #5 of your I-20. Please note the orientation dates that were sent along with your I-20. Attending the international student orientation is important to your success at CPCC.

I-94

An I-94 is your Arrival/Departure Record, which will be distributed by your flight crew prior to landing. Complete the form accurately ensuring your name, date of birth and citizenship matches what is typed in your passport. In some instances, the I-94 will be distributed by immigration personnel when you enter the United States. The I-94 card is stapled to your passport and stamps the departure date and the date by which you must exit the United States. The I-94 must be turned in to a CBP officer or airline representative when you exit the U.S. If it is not turned in to a CBP officer or airline representative, you will be considered an “overstay” and you may be denied entry when you attempt to reenter the United States in the future.
