

CPCC is about leadership.

Central Piedmont Community College graduate Fire Chief Luther Fincher leads by example. As Fire Chief and Homeland Security Director, Luther Fincher has dedicated his life to making Charlotte safe. He credits much of his success to his beginnings at CPCC.

The College offers hundreds of degree, diploma, and certification programs; customized corporate training; market-focused continuing education; and special interest classes to meet the education needs of this community.

Find out what Central Piedmont Community College can offer you. No matter where you're going, CPCC helps you Get There.

Summer and fall registration begins April 26 for current students and April 30 for new students. Fall registration continues through August 17. Summer schedules will be available in the Charlotte Observer on April 28.
