

CPCC is about. business.

Bernard Truesdale, owner of VADORN Art Décor, has always wanted to be an entrepreneur. The Institute for Entrepreneurship at CPCC helped Bernard achieve that goal. VADORN, an internet operation, sells imported art, vases, centerpieces, rugs, prints and more. Bernard's advice for other aspiring entrepreneurs is to get a solid foundation in basic business principles at CPCC's Institute for Entrepreneurship.

CPCC offers hundreds of degree, diploma, and certification programs; customized corporate training; market-focused continuing education; and special interest classes to meet the education needs of this community.
