

CPCC is about good taste.

Central Piedmont Community College graduate Gene Kato understands the sweet taste of success. After graduating from the culinary program at CPCC, Gene opened Japonais Restaurants in Chicago, Manhattan, and the Mirage in Las Vegas. Success takes creativity, innovation, and flexibility, but Gene also credits his instructors and the quality education he received at CPCC.

CPCC offers hundreds of degree, diploma, and certification programs; customized corporate training; market-focused continuing education; and special interest classes to meet the education needs of this community.

Find out what Central Piedmont Community College can offer you. No matter where you're going, CPCC helps you Get There.

Summer and fall registration begins April 26 for current students and April 30 for new students. Fall registration continues through August 17. Summer schedules will be available in the Charlotte Observer on April 28.

www.cpcc.edu

Get There.

CENTRAL PIEDMONT COMMUNITY COLLEGE