Wachovia Scholarship for Financial Services Careers

The Wachovia Scholarship for Financial Services Careers has been established to provide scholarship assistance to deserving CPCC students interested in gaining employment in the financial services industry. The endowment was created by a gift from Wachovia to attract and retain students in the bank teller, mortgage banking and financial planning disciplines. During the the fiscal year, scholarships are awarded as follows – one Bank Teller Scholarships (not to exceed $100); two Mortgage Banking Scholarships (not to exceed $200 each); and up to five Certified Financial Planner Scholarships (not to exceed $1,500 each). Scholarship funds may be used to pay for tuition and fees. The funds will be disbursed directly to the college on a semester basis and will not exceed $300 on any given class.

Qualifications

- Have earned a high school diploma or GED for Bank Teller and Mortgage Banking courses and a bachelor's degree for Certified Financial Planner courses
- Demonstrate English proficiency through written application and oral interview
- Submit a brief statement on job/career goals and how the scholarship will benefit you (250-word maximum)
- Enroll in a Bank Teller, Mortgage Banking or Certified Financial Planner Course offered through the CPCC Financial Services Institute within six months of scholarship award
- Clean personal and professional record (no felony or misdemeanor convictions)

Selection Criteria

Applicants meeting the criteria above will be screened by CPCC Financial Services Institute faculty and staff. Selection and award decisions will be made by a committee, comprised of Financial Services Institute faculty, staff and Advisory Board members. All decisions are final. Scholarship recipients are not obligated to work for Wachovia and are free to accept employment at other financial institutions and organizations.
